Over the next year, we will use the monthly N&D E-Brief to roll out a series of materials and resources developed and compiled by the Content and Learning Team at the Department of Public Instruction (DPI). These evidence-based materials are intended to support classroom instruction and help provide quick and relevant tools that you can implement in your curriculum.

Each month features a topic and a set of materials that reinforce the implementation of that topic. Based on feedback, instructional resources will initially focus on mathematics. We've tried to present the materials so that they make sense in developing a curriculum or a plan.

We look forward to sharing these resources and tools over the next year and hope you find them useful.
